Chamber Chatter

By IRENE GROVE

"That's what I like about Albany — it is such a friendly, close knit place where things like this happen" — that was the remark overheard during the commotion that marked the beginning of the Solano Avenue Easter Parade.

It meant much more than a passing remark — we are so used to grumbling about conditions we don't like, we tend to forget all the good things that make our city a good place in which to live and work.

First the Easter Parade — it was a great day for the kiddies and grownups alike. The costumes and floats were wonderful and the participants get cuter every year. Many people deserve a real vote of thanks for their part in making the event a success. Thank you to — Parade Marshal Johnny Pleich in his top hat and special Easter bow tie — to Cecil Wentz and those hard working judges (a terrific job when there are so many clever entries and each one deserves a prize) — to the Police and Fire Departments, and to Mayor Carlevaro for their cooperation, to Elmer Nelson and the Recreation Department — to Elmer Coble and the Albany YMCA — to Jim Woulfe Ford for the use of the car for our mayor — to Jerry DuMont and his adorable troupe of small dancers who led the parade — to Stanley Radio and TV for the use of the sound equipment — to Bill Garren for the special movie at Albany Theatre, and to everyone who had a part in this successful event.

Yes, that is one of the things we like about Albany — but there is so much more — It is good to live in a city where you feel like you belong — where you know your neighbors and merchants — where there is friendly and personal service — where city officials and townspeople gather for a farewell dinner for a departing city employee — where we scream about parking tickets — but when you find a parking spot, where else are they so conveniently marked.

Where young and progressive merchants remodel and improve their places of business, demonstrating their faith in the city's future. The beautiful modern "new look" of Dagna's Market and Security Savings and Loan seem to have set a trend for more "new looks" — Berkeley-Lee Garage, new quarters for French Imports, Muller-Gordon, and now we can hardly wait to see the new quarters for Call Bros. Jewelers, East Bay Chevrolet, Color Corner, and those under way.

May "yours truly" close with a personal note of thanks to the nurses and staff at Albany Hospital for their kindness and extra service during my stay there. Albany should be very proud of this fine institution in our city with its excellent facilities, the personal and efficient service of the staff and personnel. It is another example of the good things that make Albany a good place to live and work.

GOVERNOR EXPLAINS CUT IN U.C. BUDGET

The Albany City Council this week considered a letter from Governor Brown explaining why financial help to defray costs of educating the children of students living in Albany's University Village had been deleted from the annual budget presented by the regents of the University of California.

He declared there were many branches of the University throughout the state where similar problems might from time to time be faced by the state and which might be difficult to refuse if a precedent were to be set in the Albany situation.

The mayor and other members of the council agreed that the governor's explanation showed a total unfamiliarity with the situation here. In Albany's case the housing is exclusively for married students at the University; the housing is not located in the same city as the university itself, and further the several hundred elementary school students require many thousands of dollars over the normal school budget to provide for extra teachers and school maintenance. This is aside from the requirements for fire, police and other expenses incurred by the city in maintaining street and clean-up costs. The Village, being state property, is not taxable.

The council finally agreed to address letters to the Governor, Albany's senator and assemblyman, calling attention to Albany's unique position in this problem, and to the fact that the U.C. Regents appeared to understand and appreciate the city's problem as evidenced by their inclusion of this item in the U.C. budget as submitted to the Governor. The vote in favor of this action was unanimous.

Other items included: A letter from the University Bridge Club commending the Albany Recreation Department for the many courtesies extended to members of their organization at the Albany Center.

In another congratulatory letter John A. Ratekin, Mayor of Union City, congratulated the Albany Council upon obtaining the highly qualified services of James B. Turner as its City Engineer and Executive Assistant to the Council. Turner had served Union City in its organization details.

The council heard a letter from George C. Collier, temporary chairman of an Albany group of citizens setting forth its aims and requesting the council to express its approval or disapproval of such an organization. It was understood this group would be a fact-finding one only, and the city would in no way be bound to follow its recommendations except in an advisory capacity. The movement was given approval unanimously by the council.

At the request of Kathleen Watkinson, Albany Librarian, the council approved a motion authorizing the Mayor to proclaim April 16-22 as National Library Week.

The revised dog license ordinance raising the penalty for delinquency in paying dog licenses, was approved on second reading and passed to print. The vote was 4 to 1, Councilman Howell dissenting.

The council also approved support to the movement by the Oakland City Council in its complaint to the Civil Aeronautics Board asking a higher rating for the Oakland air terminal.

Little League Program of Expansion To Include Boys in 13-15 Age Bracket

Little League Baseball, a program 21 years old and with over 1½ million boys participating throughout the world, has launched an experimental program in the 13-15 year old age bracket.

Edward E. Martins, Little League District Representative for Alameda County, who returned this week from the International Congress in Los Angeles, announced the program today.

Little League has, since the program was begun in 1939, appealed to boys in the age bracket of 9-12. In many communities, however, there exists either no program or insufficient programs for boys from 13-15 years of age. By unanimous vote at the Congress, Little League will attempt the experiment in 100 communities throughout the world. According to Martins, one league in Alameda County may be chosen as an experimental league.

Here is how the program would work:

- (1) The league that is selected would create a senior Little League division within its own league structure. That is, the officers, treasury, by-laws, would be the same. The senior division would operate under the name of that particular league.
- (2) There must be at least 4 teams, but no more than 8 for each league.

(3) Boundaries for selection of players must conform to those of the local Little League.

(4) The league age is that age attained by a boy prior to August 1, in any given season. In this respect, the determination of league age correlates with the existing standards defining Little League age.

(5) There can be 12, 13, 14 or 15 boys on each team roster, but in any event, a minimum of five 13 year olds.

(6) Dimensions of the playing field are the same as Official Baseball Rules.

(7) 7 inning regulation game.

(8) An All Star World Series Tournament will be similar to the type now in existence.

According to Martins, any league desiring to become the experimental league must contact him immediately.

Other results of the Annual Congress found 27 Little League rule changes defeated and 3 minor administrative changes being passed.

Some important rule changes defeated were (1) No-adult coaches on the base lines. (2) No local All Star Tournaments that are not connected with the National All Star program. (3) No double elimination during All Star Tournament. A rule change passed and becoming effective in 1962 allows a minor league player to continue playing in a league, although he subsequently moves outside the boundaries.

Martins was selected as one of the six lecturers at the Congress, spoke on the responsibilities of the league officers, acquisition of real estate, and ladies auxiliaries. At the Congress, he introduced two innovations into the Little League program: (1) A sample annual calendar for use of local league officers as a check list to schedule their annual events. (2) A sample procedure for commenting Little League ladies auxiliaries developed by Mrs. Eleanor Parker of Hayward.

Martins was reappointed as Chairman of the Little League Congress Steering Committee, and has started formulating plans for the Little League Congress to be held in Texas next year.

YOUR TIRES

Deterioration in your automobile tires is brought about largely by three factors: heat, light, and oil. The most important of these, points out the National Automobile Club, is heat, and heat is increased by underinflation.

I chose to live in Albany as a result of the excellent word-of-mouth reputation of its school system. I have not been disappointed.

I am especially pleased with the first grade in Marin School, where my daughter is getting a splendid start in reading because she has a teacher with great ability and appreciation of the importance of phonetics along with other forms of reading training. I am equally pleased with the third grade in the same school, where another excellent teacher is working hard to help my son overcome his reading and spelling problems, which are in large measure due to inadequate instruction in the first grade elsewhere in California.

I heartily endorse the proposed 25-cents school tax increase and I shall be voting in favor of it at the election May 9th.

It behooves us all to feel acutely the need to maintain the fine quality of our schools. That is why I plan to vote for the 25-cent increase in property tax at the May 9th election.

How many times has this man saved your life?

Like most of us, when the kids are in the car, you get that "extra careful" feeling. You know, that's the same way your friend—the service station dealer—feels when you stop by to see him.

Over the years, you've probably come to take your service station dealer pretty much for granted. But when your kids are riding with you, aren't you glad you took his advice and had your brakes checked? His suggestions—small though they may seem to be—may have saved your life more than once. His interest in your safety is more than interest in a customer—it's concern about a friend.

And what a valuable "extra" if your own service station gives you S&H Green Stamps.

You know, of course, that half the families in America save them.

Your S&H Green Stamps make it possible for you to choose from over 1,500 top-quality, famous brand-name items at your S&H Green Stamp Redemption Store.
